

Oh, hello Don. I'm so happy to see you at school again. The students seem to really enjoy it when you're here with them.

Thanks, John.

It's always fun when I'm here. I heard that there will be an opening for another teaching position at the school. I was hoping that I could apply and be considered for the position.

Yes, there is another position opening, and we are hoping to do interviews as soon as possible. However, knowing your past experiences and qualifications, I have to say that you are too qualified for that job. Your experiences and skills will be better suited for something else.

Oh, well. Thank you.